Elk Point 4-H Multi Club showcased the year's efforts by their members last Friday at the annual Achievement Day, which for the first time included steer, horse, craft and photography projects.

After members all had the opportunity to judge a class of four steers, members and spectators went out to the rodeo infield to watch Seanna and Ashton Ewasiuk put their well-trained horses, Dusty and Jellybean, through their paces in a trail class demonstration.

Then it was back to the C. G. Baker Arena, where Ruth Vogel announced the winners of the first-ever stall decorating contest. Alexis Bristow placed first and Janice Tymofichuk second with their unique décor.

Craft members Madison MacDonald, Edna Kulczycki, Alexis Bristow and Ashley Bristow had an opportunity to talk about their year's projects, which included knot blankets, throw pillows, tie-dyed shirts and flower pots, which reinforce the fact that you don't need to live on a farm or own animals to be part of 4-H.

Leader Jason Boorse said another new project this year is photography, and said that while it had been "a really good learning curve" for Robyn Ockerman and Edna Kulczycki, "they became really good shutterbugs" with their new expertise.

The steer members then brought their animals into the ring, for inspection by judge Mac Creech, who pronounced them "really good steers." He chose Robyn Ockerman's steer as grand champion and her younger brother Tyler's as reserve champion, and said, "they're both very thick, money-making steers."

Creech also judged showmanship and grooming. Senior winners of both classes were Robyn Ockerman, first, and Janice Tymofichuk, second. Intermediate winners were Darren Tymofichuk first for both, and Tyler Ockerman second. Nicole Tymofichuk placed first in both Junior classes, with Ashley Bristow second and Alexis Bristow third.

Terry Holmgren marked the Judging cards, and announced Janice Tymofichuk first and Robyn Ockerman second in Senior, Darren Tymofichuk first and Tyler Ockerman second in Intermediate, and Nicole Tymofichuk first, Alexis Bristow second and Ashley Bristow third in the Juniors.

Speed and shine stars on Auto Show day

BY VICKI BROOKER

Elk Point Auto Club's Show and Shine filled the Iron Horse Trail staging area with beauty, while the added attractions kept the crowd moving up and down Main Street to take in the Baby Crawling Race, the Baby Buggy Race, the artists-at-work exhibit and a variety of jamboree-style live entertainment.

The Baby Crawling Race brought out only three entrants, with Ella Smith the big winner of a $250 certificate for diapers, Ayvah Smith coming in second and Felicity Winchester placing third.

The Baby Buggy Race was a crowd-pleasing competition which saw young moms race to strap a baby doll in a stroller, change its diaper, fill bottles, rummage through a carton of mixed attire for booties, socks, undershirt, shirt, pants, hat and blankets, dress the doll, fill the diaper bag and race back to the starting point. Dayna Gadwa was the lucky winner of a $250 prize sponsored by the Elk Point Chamber of Commerce, with Melissa Koren second, Monique Poulin third, Stephanie Brewer fourth, Crystal Pizzey fifth, Nicole Bykowsky sixth and Airyn Guerzon seventh, all receiving gift certificates.

Back at the staging area, spectators voted for their favourites in a variety of classes, with the winners announced at 4 p.m.

A pearl-white 1940 Ford coupe displayed by Larry Nordquist of Lloydminster earned three awards at the show, including People's Choice, Show and Oldest Vehicle

Elk Point Golf Club looking for MSI funding

By VICKI BROOKER
Review Staff

Elk Point Golf and Country Club representatives Preston Krankowsky and Ken Ference visited Elk Point town council last Monday, seeking funding from the portion of the town's municipal sustainability initiative (MSI) grant that is designated to assist non-profit organizations.

Krankowsky thanked the town for their continued cooperation, and noted that the club hosts several major tournaments each year which bring in out-of-town guests.

"Our recreational facility and our landscape have come a long way," he said, listing previous and ongoing improvements, from the grass greens and water reservoir to the purchase of grounds equipment and new golf carts, and the building of a shed where members can rent space to store their carts. The club is now looking at paving the cart paths, upgrading the clubhouse deck, insulating their workshop and possibly even building an office for the groundskeeper and adding lighting to the parking lot.

Krankowsky said the club would experience a $40,000 shortfall if they go ahead with all their projects, and are asking both the town and county for financial assistance.

The Golf Club has seen an increase in power bills from about $12,000 to $19,000 annually, and town manager Myron Goyan said he is looking into the increase for them.

Council agreed later in the meeting to set aside time to discuss the designation of the MSI funding.

Rental signage

Local entrepreneur Tim Havener said he considering purchasing and renting out moveable signage, in an effort to "stop money leaving town." He offered to pay the town a portion of his rental income, to compensate for mowing and trimming around the signs, but Mayor Parrish Tung said he would be happy to instead see the funds go to a non-profit group. He cautioned Havener that he will have to compete with the current sign supplier for renters.

Electrical upgrades

Local electrician Jonny Nielsen visited council to alert them regarding a requirement by some insurance companies to have electrical service connections upgraded in older homes to 100 amps. Aluminum wiring has also been questioned. He presented information from the Electrical Inspectors Association of Canada which indicated there is no valid reason for these changes, which in some cases have caused financial hardship for homeowners, and in other cases, where fraudulent repairs have compromised the safety of a home's wiring. Nielsen suggested that homeowners who face this requirement might wish to check into coverage through a different insurance underwriter.

Economic Development

Bob Bezpalko told council that the new economic development council "has become a major part of my life now," as he came forward to update them on recent developments.

"The deck at the river campground came in below budget. We didn't do the roof on the campsite kitchen done yet, and to complete the site, we need to confirm with Bernice Capjack and Marvin Bjornstad regarding the plaques for the deck. We're hearing a lot of ideas for the deck now, for picnic tables and wedding photos."

Bezpalko said the site still needs black dirt and grass seed for the slope above the deck, rocks to protect the deck and signage to direct people to the site, as well as several more benches and gravel for the access road. He asked council if they could have a dedication ceremony, an idea which was met with enthusiasm by the mayor.

"It would be good with a mini jamboree and a barbecue," Mayor Tung said, setting Saturday, Aug. 23 as a potential date. "Hopefully by then the grass will catch."

Welcome Signs

The site of the new welcome signs was under discussion once again. The north sign will be located by the Peter Fidler statue, but the south location is still not determined. Council did agree with Bezpalko that the elk statue and a trio of flagpoles should go at the east end of the staging area, where it is easily visible from Highway 41.

Lane closure

A public hearing regarding the closure of a lane between two residences along 50 St. did not result in any submissions for or against. The closure will now go to Alberta Transportation for their approval.

Recreation Coordinator

There are still no applicants for the position of recreation coordinator, and council debated advertising again, this time listing the wage, or possibly making this a full-time position.

Voyageurs

David Thompson Brigade celebration chairman Bernice Capjack reported that the bills are not all in yet, and the grant has not yet been received, so no final cost figures can be determined.

"All in all, you did a great job. The brigade's route chairman Mark Lund was quite appreciative," Mayor Tung commented.

Coun. Mark Gormley added that he was "blown away" by the celebration. "The amount of work Bernice put in was staggering. The deck is incredible, and the sight of the canoes is one I won't forget for a long time. It was nothing but positive PR."

Barbecue Rules

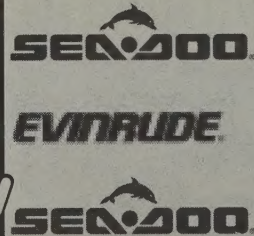

A set of rules and regulations has been made up for the town's new barbecue, which is available for use in town by non profit groups and private citizens, however the private citizens will be required to pay a $50 rental and a refundable $200 damage deposit. Because of the size of the barbecue, Goyan suggested that a small trailer the town owns could be deployed to transport it.

Pioneer Circle

Elk Point Pioneer Circle Seniors were successful in their request to have sewer and water charges for the Seniors' Recreation Centre forgiven. They also asked for some of the MSI grant to help cover expenses, and this request will be referred to the joint operating grant.

DARE class graduates at Elk Point Elementary

By VICKI BROOKER

Review Staff

Elk Point Elementary School's 2008 Drug and Alcohol Resistance Education (DARE) class graduated last Wednesday, and drew praise from their instructor, RCMP Cst. McFarlane, who told the audience of proud parents and family members that, "part of the program is a DARE essay, in which they make a pledge to themselves. The essays were all excellent."

Four of the Grade 6 students involved in the program read their essays to the audience.

Grade 6A student Perry Glambeck said that he learned, "drugs and alcohol are not part of a healthy lifestyle. Just because you don't drink doesn't mean you're not cool. I pledge to make wise decisions."

His classmate, Zoe Friesen reported that "alcohol, smoking and drugs can have a negative effect on your body. A healthy choice is a good choice. You might sound like a broken record saying 'no' all the time, but it's a wise decision."

Grade 6B's Madeline Ludlage "learned a lot about drugs, peer pressure, and how to make my choice and my decision. DARE has taught me not to become one of the 60 per cent of eighth graders that drink. It's OK to say no."

Savannah Plaska "learned that it's easier to start something than to quit," by observing family members quitting smoking. She felt the class gave her good coping skills that will keep her from experiencing similar problems.

"It's excellent to hear how much DARE has impacted their lives," Cst. McFarlane said. This is the third year he has conducted the course and "every year has been awesome. I will continue next year. If it stops one student from an unhealthy lifestyle, it is worth it." DARE "gives students the tools to cope with peer pressure, drugs and alcohol. It's a real pleasure to teach them."

EPE Principal Lorne Young thanked the constable, and said, "this program is one of the ways we can work with the community to make a difference in terms of how we live our lives. They learn what it takes to make a healthy citizen. Making good choices is crucial, it's absolutely essential at every level, for every student. It does make a difference."

Cst. McFarlane and Grade 6 teachers Christie Roche and Emma Holota presented certificates to the students. Brayden Vinge and Madeline Ludlage presented Cst. McFarlane with a gift from his grateful students.

RCMP Cst. Jason McFarlane and the Elk Point Elementary Grade 6 DARE graduates shared the spotlight last Wednesday at the class' graduation from the DARE program.

Crusaders and Canadian Natural Resources celebrate Café Read-a-Lot

By DENISE BJORKMAN

F. G. Miller Librarian

On Friday, May 23, 2008, students and representing the Crusaders along with Lee-Ann Mules, Carrie Rawlake and Todd Jacula of CNRL joined Denise Bjorkman and Miss Lilly in celebrating the donation of $15 057.56 made by the Corporate Field Donations Matching Committee Bonnyville Heavy Oil & NE Gas in February of 2008.

Students selected ranged from those who have excelled in the Accelerated Reader Program and those that have been an integral part of fundraising for the Café. Colin Bjorkman, principal, and Cheri Lindquist, assistant principal represented our staff at the event. Also in attendance were Tracy Loughran, Shaina Gadowski and Laura Dechaine who were instrumental in the application of the grant and volunteered at a CNRL fundraising event in October.

The group enjoyed a pizza/salad lunch followed by refreshments and squares. Students entertained our guests with karaoke on the big screen following lunch. Miss Lilly made it to the event to thank CNRL. Tears were almost shed as she personally thanked the CNRL representatives for their commitment to our Café Read-a-Lot Literacy Project. She presented them with a thank you card signed by all our teachers and students as well as pins. As a special treat she sang Patsy Cline's "Crazy" for our guests.

We were also able to share our successes with the Accelerated Reader program with our guests. Students demonstrated not only taking a quiz, but how the program's point system works. Currently our students have read and tested on 3418 books - that's 130 227 125 words! Other students showed our guests how the Career Cruising website works. Yet others continued to serenade us with a variety of karaoke tunes.

The event ended with Miss Lilly giving our guests a tour of the halls of F. G. Miller High School and wishing them a fond farewell with an invitation to our Grand Opening during Education Week 2009 where we will be inviting all our sponsors and those that helped make our Café Read-a-Lot dream a reality! Until then, keep the lamp lit and read on!

Miss Lilly, the Crusaders and Canadian Natural employees gather around the facsimile of the $15 057.56 cheque donated to the Café Read-a-Lot Literacy Project by Canadian Natural in the R. E. Beattie Library (Home of Café Read-a-Lot) at F. G. Miller High School during the May 23 Thank You Luncheon.

Small but mighty

There's no doubt about it. Elk Point 4-H Multi Club doesn't have the biggest lineup of steers or the most members of any club in the district, but what they lack in size, they make up in spirit.

There are only seven steer projects this year, but the club expanded their achievement day to showcase the other projects - horsemanship, crafts, photography and creative options. All the members were encouraged to display their skills, whether at decorating a stall for their steer or artistically arranging the results of the club year to the best advantage.

4-H is all about 'learning to do by doing,' and the members have done a lot of learning during the year. It shows in the confidence with which they led their calves around the ring and rode their horses through a very challenging trail course, in the beautiful blankets and creative pillows they made, in the sharp and eye-catching photos they displayed, in the creative decorations they made for their steer stalls.

Congratulations to a club where everyone is a winner - because they have learned and helped one another to learn, faced challenges, been creative, exhibited leadership skills, and made their year an interesting and exciting one that everyone could enjoy.

WAY BACK

Participation, retirement, 4-H

HERE'S THE NEWS THAT MADE THE HEADLINES OF THE LAKELAND REVIEW AND THE ELK POINT REVIEW FOR THE WEEK OF JUNE 3 IN...

1988

Participation! We did it in style on our Sweat and Sneaker Day, involving a coffee cup race, a type-off, aerobics, skipping, golfing, the bird dance, line dancing, a water balloon toss and the much-anticipated slowpitch game between the Towns of St. Paul and Elk Point, which ended with St. Paul Deputy Mayor Pat Gratton enjoying a wheelbarrow ride around the bases courtesy of Elk Point Mayor Byron Mann. Despite three hours of input from perturbed ratepayers, town council went ahead with plans to hike their water rates by $10 per month, effective June 1.

1993

The many projects undertaken in Elk Point during MLA John Drobot's years in the legislature were recognized by Mayor Ed Buck during Drobot's retirement party, as he prepared to trade his seat under the dome for one on his Stoney Lake back porch beside wife Gladys. A bearded bunch of Backwoods Boys, playing spoons, accordion and a hillbilly washtub bass, were among the highlights at the Elk Point and District Choral Society's spring concert.

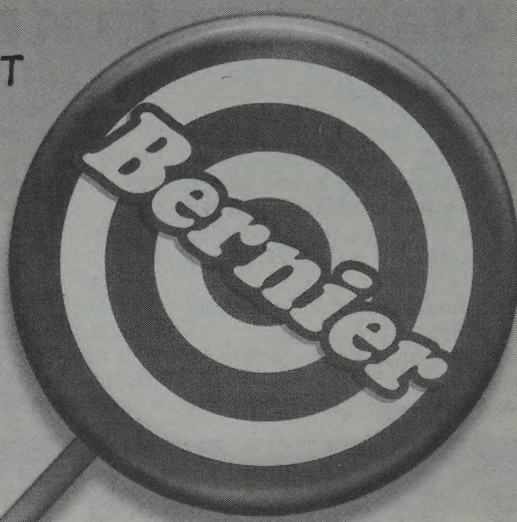

1998

Amanda Ference showed Elk Point's grand champion 4-H steer and Mark Ference the supreme champion female, with both steer and female reserve trophies going to Taralee Babenek. Travis Bowman gave the class address and former social studies teacher Shannon Leskiw was the guest speaker at Heinsburg's Class of '98 celebration.

2003

Nichole Havener showed the grand champion steer and Shaun Robinson the supreme champion female at Elk Point's 4-H achievement day, while Danielle Schnurer showed the reserve animals in both classes. Campers were evacuated when a wildfire licked at the Elks campground at Kehewin Lake after a spark from a campfire at Scout Hill ignited poplar fuzz.

AH, SWEET SCANDAL.

THIS'LL KEEP 'EM HAPPY FOR AWHILE.

GUEST COLUMN

For love of seniors

The Seniors Advisory Council For Alberta has declared June 2 - 8, 2008 Senior's Week. The theme: "Our Seniors - Building A Stronger Alberta". This theme is so true. Alberta is today what our Seniors did yesterday and Alberta is stronger because of that.

Speaking of seniors, there is a poem called "My Love For Seniors" by Helen Dewan Plypow that makes sense. The following is only a few verses of that poem.

deanna EASTHOPE
from the FCSS desk

*What does a senior mean to me?
Strength in the face of reality
Someone who offers a willing hand
And knows the real meaning of "our native land".*

*Someone who worked, when work was real labor
And still had the time to visit a neighbor,
Worked with their hands, eighteen hours a day
And never once asked for a raise in pay.*

*No fancy shoes, or clothes to wear
No modern hair dye to color their hair,
Just down to earth people, as plain as your face
Who added so much to the whole human race.*

*People who opened their doors to each other
And treated their fellowman, just like a brother,
Great ones who lived by the word of God
While brushing and breaking and turning the sod.*

*Who showed me the difference between wrong and right
And taught me to walk away, rather than fight?
Who taught me to choose my friends like my books*

The Elk Point Review publishes a variety of opinions as a contribution to debate on matters of public concern. Unsigned editorials express the view of this newspaper's editorial board which includes the Publisher and the Editor. Signed pieces express the view of the individual writer.

*For what they are and not their looks?
Did you every once, just stop and think
If it wasn't for you, my ship still might sink?
I need someone older, to show me the way
To accept any problems I have through the day.*

*To show me that money is not everything,
Teach me to laugh, and teach me to sing.
As I said before, there's one thing for certain
When you call down yourself, it's me that you're hurtin.*

*So don't every say, "I'm too old, I'm no good!"
Take all your credits, the way that you should.
You're really important in life, don't you see?
If it wasn't for you, there wouldn't be me.*

News from Heritage Lodge

BY HEATHER PIQUETTE
Activity Coordinator

May seemed to be a very busy month to me, but then, aren't they all? At least, I seem to say that every month.

We kicked off May with the Volunteer Recognition Evening where we recognized about 70 of our volunteers and we do indeed have more that might have attended had they not been busy volunteering at other sites that evening. All of the attending volunteers were recognized with a corsage that our residents had made and a gift which was a very small token of our gratitude for what they do for us. My activity program would not be very interesting at all without their valued input and activities.

The program that evening featured manager Loris Kozina, thanking the volunteers with a poem, Santa and Mrs. Claus thanking the residents for letting them be part of our Christmas and handing out treats to the residents, Bob and Emily Thompson singing some great tunes and the "Bad Actors" dram a club putting on the Hat Skit.

Our Mother's Day Tea took place on May 9 and was also well attended. All Moms were recognized with a corsage also made by our crafty residents. We celebrated with coffee, tea, juice, fruits, cakes and the chocolate fountain.

Elk Point girls of summer off to a great start

Our two girls' ball teams are both off to a great start to the season.. The peewee girls have dominated in all three games that they have played, winning over Cold Lake, Cold Lake First Nations, and Pierceland. Last night they took on St. Paul but the result weren't in at press time. Pitchers Taylor Cochrane, Seanna Joy Leaf and Darby Hines have done a super job sitting the competition down swinging, and when they do manage to hit the ball, our fielders have come up with big plays. Behind the mask, Katie Maennchen has been doing a solid job back catching.

On Monday May 26, the small but mighty mites/squirts girls team had an away game in St. Paul. They played the St. Paul #2 team, defeating them (score not available). On Wednesday, they had another away game in St. Paul playing the St. Paul #1 team, defeating them 20 to 11. To date, the girls have been undefeated. Last week they played Bonnyville and also won that game. This year the girls only have 11 players, three of which are squirts and eight mites. Ball players have to start somewhere and this team has a lot of potential players for the future with everyone always getting on base and a few home runs. The youngest of the team just joined the team on Wednesday moving up trols the ball." Last weeks answer to-" Trying to sneak a pitch past Hank Aaron is like trying to sneak a sunrise past a rooster." - Joe

We heard what you said about a Land-use Framework for Alberta

Land-use decisions affect all of us – they affect where we live, work and play.

The Government of Alberta has released the Draft Land-use Framework, which provides a blueprint for land-use management and decision-making to address Alberta's growth pressures.

The ideas and views of Albertans played a vital role in developing this draft framework.

You can download a copy of the draft framework and provide your feedback through an online survey at www.landuse.gov.ab.ca, pick up a copy at your MLA constituency office, or call 310-4455 to receive a copy by mail.

Help shape our province today, and into the future.

News from Heritage Lodge

Loris read us a poem and the "Bad Actors" wee at it again as they depicted lodge staff and residents by the hats they wore.

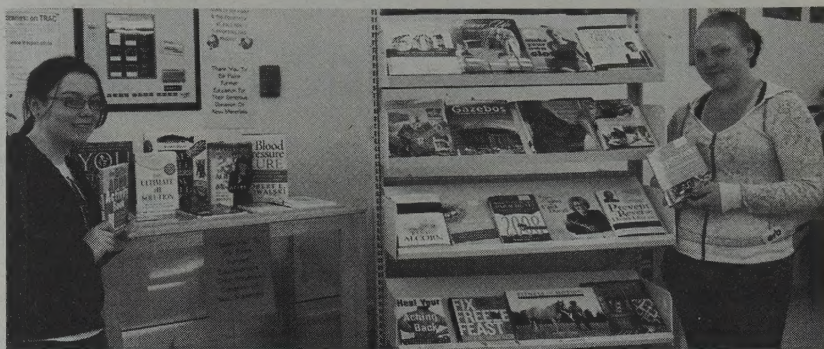

On May 13, five residents and myself traveled to St. Paul for a swim and lunch. We held our Resident Council meeting on May 20 in the morning, followed by the Auxiliary meeting in the afternoon. Grant decisions were made at both meetings. The Auxiliary is looking for new members to join us in planning, playing and working together. Anyone who is interested can call Heather at 724-4449. On May 26, several of us went to Moe's Greenhouse for an outing, to pick up some flowers and to have a picnic. A fun time was had by all! Florence Drobot joined us for crafts on May 27,

Bingo, card bingo, brain teasers, reading corner and crafts were the nom this month, while lawn dice gave way to gardening. Daniel and Lori, who have been our regular bingo and card bingo volunteers, have been away on holidays and have been sorely missed. We have decided to plant some vegetables to be eaten fresh and raw by the residents and are looking forward to the snacks our garden will bring. The entertainment for the month consisted of Gabe Bayduza on most Monday evenings, the Mennonite singers, Jerry and the Guys and Roy and the Js.

The month of June is offering us more excitement with Seniors' Week. I encourage all the residents who can go to attend the pancake breakfast at the Seniors' Centre on June 1. We will be celebrating with card making with Daleen Pinder on June 3. On June 4, we have planned a spelling bee, shuffleboard tournament, card bingo and bean bag toss with a barbecue to follow and all seniors are welcome. Please call Heather to register by June 3. On June 5, we will go shopping in Cold Lake and out to Clarks' for lunch.

The churches - United Church, Christian Community Church, Elk Point Baptist Church and the Mennonite Singers will be in attendance on each of their Sundays. Other than the regular items, highlights for June are, on June 9, the Morinville Minstrels are coming to play for us at 3:30, a presentation on "Money Matters for Seniors" at 9:30 on June 10, a barbecue for Father's Day at noon followed by Elizabeth Orr playing the piano for all of the fathers at 3:30 on Thursday, June 12, and we are off to the Farmers' Day Picnic at Stoney Lake on June 13. We will also be going to Holland for our armchair travel on June 20 and getting our float ready for the July 1 parade.

Health focus of donations

By NICOLE LABRIE

Elk Point Municipal Library

The Elk Point Municipal Library was recently on the receiving end of a generous donation from Elk Point Further Education. Every year, Further Ed supports the library with donations of books geared toward a certain topic area, usually having to do with health. This year is no different. The library appreciates the donations very much and have put the books on display to show them off.

We have books dealing with nutrition, how to better your mind and body, books that offer help with legal situations among family members, and cookbooks as well. These donated books appeal to men and women of every age, but we do have books with topics that are for a specific group, such as those with families. We also have quite a few books that deal with health issues such as heart disease, Alzheimer's and diabetes, and how to deal with these diseases.

Here is a short list of a few of the books that the library has to offer: "Mayo Clinic on Managing Diabetes," "Foods That Fight Cancer," "Strong Women, Strong Backs," "30 Minute Get Real Meals," "The Secret" (a self-help book that is quite popular right now), "Walking on Eggshells: Navigating the Delicate Relationship Between Adult Children and Parents," "The Alzheimer's Action Plan," and much more to choose from, due to Elk Point Further Education's generous donations.

These books are on the display cases in the library and can be identified by a sticker on the front cover of the book. Come in and check them out soon, before they're scooped up by other readers!
